

The preparations for SDU Business School Days 2023 have begun

In weeks 10 and 11, SDU Business School Days will take place for the second year, and once again the BizBuzz will spread through various activities on all campuses for our students. The activities can both aim to strengthen the students' academic outlook, create social relations or a network with the business community. The activities can thus have many different formats - both as an integrated part or around the teaching activities.

The planning is on the idea stage, and we would love to receive your input. So, if you have any good ideas for activities, that you think might create value, please contact your local coordinators, who are distributed as follows:

Kolding: Lone Toftild

Esbjerg: Malene Damsted

Sønderborg: Simon Jepsen

Slagelse: Dina Skytte og Birgitte Sloth

Odense: Gitte Klausen and Jannek Sommer

Secretariat: Line Troelsgaard and Ea Nakos

The secretariat will again arrange an activity across all campuses. Last year we built LEGO with the students, and this year the activity will evolve around alumni presentations.

We look forward to getting started with the preparations and to experience that SDU Business School can set the stage for some educational and value-giving days for both students, the business community and for us employees.
