

Good interaction between students and faculty in learning situations at the Faculty of Business and Social Sciences

At SDU BSS we view interactions between students and faculty as a collaboration with focus on learning, where all involved parties strive towards and take their share of responsibility for the success of the collaboration.

Mutual expectations

- We show respect for other people's work, opinion, and person, we agree to:
 - Listen to each other
 - Respect diversity
 - Avoid making derogatory comments
 - Provide arguments to support our standpoint
 - If necessary, further specify our expectations regarding the collaboration
- We respect deadlines for both formal and informal assignments
- We comply with SDU's Common Code of Conduct.

Expectations of the student

- I participate actively in class and ask questions as optimal learning - both individual and mutual - is based on presence and active participation
- I show up for lectures, seminars, and workshops - prepared and on time.

Expectations of the lecturer

- I strive to maximize students' learning through well-structured teaching and constructive feedback.
- I answer students' questions related to the subject within a reasonable timeframe.
